About Me

I'm a passionate barista with about eight months experience and I'm quickly developing a passion and obsession for making exceptional drinks. I'm poised and eager to learn more about specialty coffee and the finer aspects of the business. I was trained on an Astoria Gloria SAE2 and I taught myself latte art. I recently completed the Professional Barista Training Class at Cuvee Coffee with Clancy Rose. My Texas Food Handler's certificate is current.

In addition to being an up and coming barista and coffee fanatic, I'm also a dedicated musician and songwriter looking to make a home for myself in Austin. I plan on being here for at least the next two or three years.

My Experience

Scooter's Coffeehouse - Austin, TX: September 2010 – present

At Scooter's I make many different espresso-based drinks both traditional and unique to Scooter's. I provide exceptional customer service in the café and at the drive-thru as well as keeping all areas neat and clean. I also started and now manage the store's Twitter account.

Fiddlehead – Boston, MA: November 2007- December 2008

Fiddlehead was an eco-friendly gifts and accessories store on Boston's famous Newbury Street. I was responsible for assisting customers with the products, educating them on the green factors and suggesting gifts for certain interests. I also did a large amount of inventory, stocking, cleaning and making interesting displays.

Subway - Lexington, NE: May 2010 – June 2010

Between graduating college and moving to Austin, I lived at home in Nebraska for a couple months and worked at Subway making the best sandwiches I could and ensuring customers a pleasant experience. I also did a fair amount of cleaning and prep work.
